A telegram received here states that the question has been "adjudged amicably." A meeting is to be held this evening to hear the report of those present at the meeting of the Grand Commandery.

No Longer Quiet.

Owosso, once a sort of a quiet place, has in the past year taken a sudden change, and is now becoming one of the best small cities on the globe. The city is now busy paving the street going to the M. C. R. R. depot. The Owosso Sugar Factory is progressing very nicely. Much of the growth and improvement she is making should be credited to the newspapers that the city has, as they are all first class. Laingsburg News.

Minnie, the 17 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Himburg, No. 1600 Herman street, was attacked by an unknown enemy, at midnight, Saturday and terribly disfigured with carbolic acid, which was daubed on her face, arms and breast in two score places.

The girl claims she went to a lone some place near the Michigan Central tracks in response to an anonymous note. The writer claimed to be "A true friend." If Miss Himburg did not deliberately put the acid on herself, some person whom she wishes to shield, did.

County Clerk Martin-Surprised.

Monday was the anniversary of the birth of county clerk, John Y. Martin. This fact did not excite John a little bit but his wife thought she would give him a surprise, and to think is to do with Mrs. Martin. After dinner the clerk thought his lawn ought to be mowed, but after working for a while concluded he would leave it and come up at four and finish it. This is just what Mrs. Martin did not want him to do as she had invited a few friends to a six o'clock supper and was going to spread the tables upon the lawn. She left the matter with the Deputy Clerk McBride to see that he did not come home before six. A job was soon fixed up with Will Brands, who about three o'clock drove around and invited the clerk to take a ride out to the farm and see his colt. John grabbed the bait but wanted to get back time enough to mow the lawn before six. However, he was detained and arrived at home at three minutes after six to find the tables spread and a number of guests to welcome and congratulate him upon his birthday and the success of Mrs. Martin's surprise. It is needless to add that a very happy evening was the result.—Corunna Journal.

Unveiling the Ross Tablet.

The Ross memorial tablet placed in the outer wall of the Central school to commemorate the death of Fireman James Frederick Ross, killed by falling walls while working on the building April 1, 1900, was unveiled Tuesday with appropriate ceremony.

Charles W. Parker was marshal of the day, and his assistants were M. J. Phillips and J. D. Priest. The following societies and organizations, following a squad of police in handsome new uniforms, composed the procession:

O. L. I. Band.
Company H, Third Infantry.
Marshal Band.
Quackenbush Post, G. A. R.
Owosso Company No. 45, U. R. K. P.
M. W. A. Degree Team, Owosso.
Canton No. 9, I. O. O. F.
Speakers and City Officials in carriages.

Visiting Firemen.
Owosso Fire Department.
School children from city schools.

Several hundred people were on the school grounds when the tablet was unveiled by Master Herbert Ross, nephew of the dead fireman, and one of his special favorites. It is placed about ten feet from the ground in the center of the front of the building.

Addresses were made by Dr. B. S. Knapp, president of the school board, Rev. C. H. Hanks, and Rev. Edward Collins, of Detroit, chaplain of the state firemen's association. The Acme Quartette and the O. L. I. Band furnished music.

Opened His Pastorate.

Rev. J. A. Clyde, of Point Pleasant, N. J., began his pastorate at the first Baptist church, Sunday morning, by preaching a fine sermon to a large and interested congregation.

In the evening he spoke on some phases of the life of Paul.

Mr. Clyde began by saying that Paul was no mean man—following this up by exhibiting Paul as a scholar, lawyer, a member of the Sanhedrin, the last and final court of appeal. So that the wonder was that this man with such an intellectual horizon, with such avenues of opportunity in statecraft, such prestige in the social world would dare stoop to the lowly association with the despised followers of the Nazarene, to say nothing of his not being ashamed of his gospel.

Greece was then at her best in point of literature. Rome was swaggering because of the sword of political power she was then wielding, but Paul, having been touched by a new force and gripped by a power which changed the complexion of his whole life, stood ready to hurl in the very face of Greek learning and Roman political power this assertion: You are weak! I am strong. Any force or power that could call a man out from himself to the very best that is in him is the only real force or power after all.

Mr. Clyde's style is essentially winning but at the same time strong. It was so simple that a child could understand it, so deep that a philosopher would be charmed by it. He speaks entirely without notes and in a very impressive and forceful manner.

Ann Arbor Employees Picnic.

The annual business meeting and picnic of the Ann Arbor Employees' Relief Association was held at McCurdy Park, Saturday, and so pleased were Manager H. W. Ashley and Supt. W. F. Bradley, who were up from Toledo, that the picnic is declared a fixture. Probably four hundred were present and a good time was enjoyed.

The result of sports and games were as follows:

Fat man's race—Wm. Ross, Owosso, first; James Sinnott, Owosso, second.

Sack race—Fred Walton, Owosso, first; Charles Ching, Owosso, second.

Broad jump—Fred Walton, first; J. Flemming, Owosso, second.

Hammer throw—Ross first, Sinnott second.

Judges—Robert Tawse, George Sutter, E. J. Sheldon.

Two ball games furnished amusement for all. The forenoon game was between the boiler-makers and machinists' nine and a picked nine headed by S. Beelby. The score was a tie, 16 to 16. In the afternoon a Toledo nine played the Corunna Stars, the Stars winning by a score of 5 to 3 in five innings. The game was closely contested.

At the business meeting slight changes were made in the society by-laws to make all departments self-sustaining.

The present officers hold over but following were named as trustees:

Shopmen—E. T. Broeffle, A. Niblock, Owosso.

Agents and Clerks—J. I. Cowan, Mt. Pleasant; E. S. Waterman, Durand.

Conductors—P. J. Jepson, Toledo.

Trainmen—F. M. Place, Durand.

Engravers—George Pulcifer, Toledo.

Firemen—J. H. Redford.

Switchmen—A. L. Biedler, Toledo.

Trackmen—J. B. Hfre, Clare; J. E. Dumas, Toledo.

In the afternoon, the O. L. I. Band furnished music for dancing in the casino.

The annual meeting of the Ann Arbor Employees' Relief Association was held Monday at Durand. George Pulcifer, of Toledo, was elected president; E. T. Broeffle, of Owosso, vice president; Arthur Dumond, of Durand, secretary and treasurer, and R. R. Fox, of Owosso, assistant secretary. The rates of engineers, firemen, shopmen, trainmen, switchmen and conductors were raised. The retiring president, H. A. Beech, of Owosso, was presented with a fine watch chain and charm.

Local News.

The frame work has been erected and the siding put on W. L. Parker's new monument shop on South Washington street.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Everett, of Pontiac, Wednesday. Mrs. Everett was formerly Miss Nora Brewer, of Owosso.

Thirty goldfish presented to the local Federal building by E. A. Yerkes of Bennington, Mich., have arrived in the city and have been placed in the fountain in Federal park.—Saginaw Herald.

Pres. I. H. Keeler, of the Citizens' Savings Bank, and George H. Sweet, of the Owosso Savings Bank, will attend the annual meeting of the Bankers' State Association to be held in Saginaw next week.

J. D. Priest has invented a beet weeder which is regarded as a very valuable one. It cultivates within two inches of the rows and cultivates two rows at a time. It is being used in the fields of the Owosso Beet Company.

Mr. Thomas P. Holleran and Miss Katherine Rourke, were married by Rev. P. J. Slane at St. Paul's Catholic church at 8:30 Wednesday evening. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Phillips, and left on the M. C. R. R. train for Niagara Falls and New York City. Mr. Holleran has been for several years baggageman at Owosso Junction. His bride was a clerk for the Davis Dry Goods Company.

J. W. Hibbard, by Watson & Chapman, of Owosso, attorneys, will bring suit in the circuit court for the appointment of a receiver for the Bennington Creamery Company, which he declares is insolvent. Mr. Hibbard has $900 of the $4,000 stock in the creamery; 48 other farmers control the rest. The first year the company cleared $200, but left it in the treasury; now it is $1,300 in debt with no funds. The failure of a large creditor caused the trouble.

The Ferry Benefit Concert.

One of the most enjoyable concerts ever held in Owosso was the Ferry benefit concert given at the Congregational church, Saturday evening. The evening was a most successful one, the anticipated musical treat, the singing of the "Swedish Song," which would probably be the last opportunity of hearing Miss Ferry and her violin for many years and more still, a sincere desire to show that popular young woman some parting evidence of their appreciation for the many times when she has played for Owosso audiences for the pure love of pleasing her listeners with her well loved music, made no one stop to think of rain and a large audience was in attendance when it was time for the program to begin.

The opening number of the concert was Chopin's Military Polonaise, played on the organ by Miss Peterson, a particularly brilliant opening, and especially well rendered. A Scotch song, "Angus McDonald," was the next number, sung by Mr. John Prindle Scott, of Saginaw. The audience enjoyed the number greatly. "Mr. Scott has one of the most pleasing baritone voices ever heard in the city and his rendition of the Scotch and Irish folk songs is remarkably effective. The entrance of Miss Ferry marked the next number of the program. She was welcomed with hearty applause and soon had her audience charmed with Wieniawski's "La Zingaresca." The number brought out enthusiastic applause and a big bouquet of American Beauty roses, the gift of the Thursday Morning Music Club. In response to the encore Miss Ferry played Schubert's Serenade. Miss Annie Osburn's number "June," and encore, "Violeta," were both greatly enjoyed by the audience. Miss Osburn has a clear, sweet soprano voice which would attract attention anywhere. The quartet consisting of the Mesdames Allison, Osburn, and Willson, and Miss Kanagy, did good work in its numbers. Miss Ferry's double number followed: Schubert's "Evening Song," and Fierne's "Serenade." The other numbers of Miss Ferry and by Mr. Scott, were as thoroughly enjoyed as their first appearances and the final number, a trio, "Oh, Dry Those Tears," by Del Reigo, arranged for the organ, violin and baritone, was one of the most beautiful numbers ever heard in Owosso. Mrs. Allison presided at the organ and the two stars of the evening, Miss Ferry and Mr. Scott took the other parts. The number was all the more effective from the artistic stage setting which the choir loft had received from the palms and roses which had been brought in.

The concert netted the sum of about seventy-five dollars for Miss Ferry a testimonial which will make her study abroad all the more enjoyable because of the good will it showed.

Last week R. S. Brown sold his crop of 1901 beans from his farm in Hazelton to Ainsworth & Hamner, of Owosso. The crop was the product from 24 acres of grounds and brought Mr. Brown $1,256.—Flushing Observer.

The Lansing Sugar Company last season paid to the farmers $201,323.98 for sugar beets. The average price paid was $3.39 per ton, the beets averaging 14.7 per cent sugar. The company spent for coal during the campaign the sum of $33,154.86 and for coke $1,332.47. Limestone used in the manufacture of sugar cost $3,939.42. The cost of sugar barrels used was $5,938.96.
